

The Power of Spirits and Healing

Michael the Great

Two months have already passed since the magazine "Jihi To Ai," that can be called the one and only magazine of the True Law which carries only the correct laws from Heaven, was first published and now the third issue has been published without any incident, so I myself, and those in Heaven are immensely pleased.

Back in October last year, this message was carried for two months in the Japan Shinto Magazine published by Yudo Nakano. But since he occasionally spoke of making a permanent move to Manila, although this message from Heaven was supposed to continue to be carried in his magazine, I foresaw that we would lose our chance of utterances. Therefore, in one message carried in Shinto Magazine I declared that if it so happened that this magazine would cease to be published due to the circumstances of its owner, we would definitely find another outlet to deliver our messages to keep our contact with the third dimension intact. I swore that we would spare no efforts in spreading the True Law over the world and to continue to call on people in the third dimension.

Unexpectedly it turned out that we were the only ones excluded from the Shinto Magazine. Since the Satan Davide, who had found pleasure in destruction and nullification of our every effort by day and night was eternally destroyed as of February 13, 1978, the water flow of the True Law finally found its course, and today, while still small, the main stream is steadily growing. With the enthusiastic help of one of the organizers of a True Law group, Hiroyuki Nakanishi, the magazine "Jihi To Ai" (Compassion and Love) or "JI" was born, and our temporarily suspended message once more saw the light of day.

Now from this third issue on I must clear how the laws which I taught and instructed through the woman called Michael Keiko in the GLA, as well as Shinji Takahashi contained a great deal of distortions and untrue elements. This happened because of interference from Satan Davide, and cannot be helped for the most part. These mistakes, however, must be corrected and revised one by one. Otherwise, despite the fact that the Last Judgement was conducted as the inheritance of the decadent world, the presently existing mistaken form of the Heaven's Laws would remain in history permanently. These mistakes would continue to mentally and spiritually retard and degrade mankind in the twentieth century who live a very prosperous and civilized life in this advanced society. These mistakes are horrendous enough to possibly cause mankind to turn into a mob of idiots.

Aside from just the GLA, the increase in the number of religions which have little regard for the knowledge of science and believe, or otherwise teach, that diseases can be cured through the power of the spirit alone without the help of medicine, is due solely to the work of Satan Davide. Each one of these mistakes must be pointed out and the correct way must be shown to the people. This is necessary as one avenue of advancement for the third dimension which is in transition from the age of decadence to the age of purification.

Concerning the power of spirits and its extent, according to what is taught in the GLA, spirits cause sickness, and people become ill only through possession, and such disease is curable only through exorcism. Some outrageous beliefs that all types of incurable and rare diseases can be cured by the spirit, not one step removed from the bounds of superstition, have taken deep root in the new religions and this idea has overflowed into the GLA, I do not recall having once said in messages to the GLA that medical treatments of the third dimension should be spurned.

Inspite of this, before I was aware of it members of the GLA, in utter disregard for conventional medicine, began to believe that each organ or physical system can make appeals with different symptoms and make independent demands. Thus, the trend to rely solely on spiritualistic treatments by use of "thought waves" became clearly evident.

Countless religious organizations new and old began to attempt the cure of diseases through prayer and ritual, as well as by extreme diets and fasting. Amazingly enough, such religious groups seemed to increase the number of their followers and even began to spread abroad, which amazed those of us in Heaven to no end. In the days of Jesus Christ evil spirits fled at his command, and those who were blind, crippled, bed ridden with a stroke, and even people on their death-bed were cured instantaneously and rose up or stood up to walk again. Probably these recent trends arose out of a longing for spiritual healings which took place in history.

As testified by El Lantie (Jehovah) in the second chapter of "The Witness of the Kingdom of Heaven," damage to the total cellular structure, or the physical apparatus in the third dimension can be repaired only by medical treatment and therapy of the third dimension. Even psychic surgery, though it is performed with psychic power, is a type of physical surgery, and it is nothing more or less than that.

You must understand that with the one exception of such psychic surgery, practically all forms of spiritual healing from the Fourth Dimension (Heaven) are merely meant to be complimentary to modern medicine. There is a form of treatment called natural radiation therapy which is based on the same principles as the application of energy from the Celestial Realm. Conditions that can be cured by this method can be cured without the help of doctors (which means also that it can be healed by Heaven). Otherwise all those conditions which cannot be treated by this method require other approaches such as pharmaceutical drugs.

To have blind faith in the power of spirits and to passively depend on the spiritual realm for all your needs is not one step beyond the bounds of old fashioned superstition and blind faith, and you must be aware that people who believe this way have no chance of becoming civilized people. You should adopt the modern concepts related to personal health and hygiene and use your common sense to utilize all the means available for preventing disease. Blind faith in medical science is also no good. Even medical professionals are aware that there are many areas in the respective medical specialties which medicine is unable to remedy.

What we mean by saying that each of you have to be wise in your own life situation is that, even in mundane matters of the third dimension, wisdom and tact are required. It is good to make use of the strong points of oriental medicine, and sometimes western medicine can also be effective, so the merits of each approach should be adopted selectively. The person who happens to become a patient should select the physician and medication from the standpoint of what is best for their recovery. In any situation faith with passive reliance on other, and attitudes of dependency cannot be regarded as constructive living and the right way of life according to the True Law. When each individual walks the path of the wise, to become a homo sapiens (wise man) in the true sense, I promise that Heaven will provide its assistance generously.
