

Beauty of the Celestial Realm

Uriel

The Celestial Realm is purified by the beautiful spirit of its inhabitants since it is a realm where those without a cloud in their heart gather and this creates a scene of beautiful splendor. The angels and Tathagatas who live on the higher dimensions, like the scenic splendor there, are pure in their form and possess a beauty which is beyond words.

The beauty in the Celestial Realm is a form which was created as a result of long years of work and strict discipline. The kindness of Heaven contains a strict aspect, and the warmth of Heaven includes a critical view. Rather than being self-centered, people existing on this plane always desire the spiritual growth and happiness of others. This is what is known as love. It is, in other words, a heart which has come to understand the need to give oneself ceaselessly and without reserve in service to all beings, rather than just for special people in special instances.

People in the Celestial Realm do not read the minds of those on earth or give them guidance by use of some supernatural powers. Their help is primarily based on their powers of judgement to discern what is right in a given situation. It is true that the thoughts of people reach us as vibrations, but our keen judgement is what allows us to pick out what is wrong and what is right in people. Powers of judgement such as this are not acquired suddenly after one dies. The greater part of an individual's possibilities are decided while the individual is living on earth.

Spiritual training is not only necessary for the enlightenment of one's soul, but is also necessary in order to work for the construction of the Kingdom of God as a member of the Celestial Realm after death. Since human beings are born into this world and have a physical existence, all individuals must work to help others lead a better life, just as each person works to keep themselves spiritually awake.

The indescribable beauty of beings in the Celestial Realm beyond form is not simply a manifestation of kindness and warmth, but is also the sign of the realization of righteousness. This righteousness denotes love and an understanding of the laws of the universe.
